How do you play?

- A question is placed in the center of the table... For example: "How long is the perfect nap?". Each player secretly writes their answer on their arrow. They'll write their name on the other side (that will be visible to everyone).
- Once everyone has written their answer, each one takes turns placing their arrow in relation to the other players. "I know that Mom is super sleepy! I for sure have a lower number than her, so I'll place my arrow below hers."
- After everyone has placed their answer in the center of the table, reveal everyone's numbers. They must be in order from lowest to highest. Each arrow that is out of order is removed. Each remaining arrow represents a correct answer and provides one victory point for the entire team.
- After 8 questions, count your final score and write it in the Record of Legends!
- There you go! You know everything about Fun Facts, so start playing. Try it, you won't be disappointed.
