ASMODEE USA TO DISTRIBUTE CONQUEST LINE OF MINIATURES FROM PARA BELLUM GAMES

Roseville, MN – March 14, 2022. Asmodee USA has announced they will distribute Para Bellum Games' high-quality tabletop miniatures game line Conquest.

The Conquest miniatures line was built around three points to help the game stand out in the market: miniature detail, rules, and lore built around the world of Eä. The miniatures for Conquest have an amazing level of detail that is sure to please gamers and painting hobbyists. The Para Bellum crew stays updated on current industry trends. All items are developed and produced in the EU Or the US using unique methods of design and production to achieve this high level of quality.

Players will find the rules quick and easy to learn while still offering veteran players layers of strategy. Additionally, all miniatures can be used with their two rule sets: Conquest – The Last Argument of Kings, a mass battle wargame, and Conquest: First Blood, a thrilling skirmish style game. No matter the Conquest game played, players will find themselves immersed in a deep, mature world. The world of Conquest continues to evolve thanks to player participation in the Conquest: Living World and organized play supported by their system of volunteers called Vanguard.

“With its rich story line, multiple play styles, and established organized play system, Para Bellum’s Conquest line is a welcome addition to our distribution catalog,” said Andre Kieren, Head of USA Distribution. “Together, we’re excited to provide these exceptional miniatures to game tables across the United States.”

“We are very excited to partner with Asmodee USA to expand the reach of Conquest into new stores. Asmodee has a well-earned respect from the industry for the high-quality service they supply to both to retailers and their publishing partners.” noted Daryl McKay, Head of Global Sales and Marketing for Para Bellum Games.

The Conquest line of miniatures will be available through Asmodee USA this spring, including the brand-new faction, The Old Dominion. This is the 6th faction for Conquest and features the game's unique look at an army in the style of the Roman Undead. This series will not only have an amazing aesthetic, but they will also bring new rules mastery to create exciting game play opportunities.

About Para Bellum Games

Para Bellum Games is the child of that inner discussion all gamers have, the one that starts with "if I made my own game..." We develop and produce our games uniquely in the EU and the US only, allowing for an emphasis on quality - from the art, lore, and sculpting through to the finished quality of each release.

Para Bellum Games' first product - Conquest- is now in the market. Conquest is a miniatures tabletop fantasy game that offers players the opportunity to play with two game styles.

- The Last Argument of Kings which is mass fantasy battle, rank and flank style of big table play.
- First Blood a fast-paced skirmish style of game play
- Both styles using the same miniatures, with free access to rule sets, army builders and our unique Living World.

We are proud of what we have become, proud of what we're making and proud of all we're planning. We are still that same ragtag group of gamers, who also happen to be artists, sculptors and writers. We love the community of gaming and we build each Conquest item with the community in mind. We still gather, argue and laugh around game tables, we still smile at the smell of paint and plastic. It is our passion that brings us together and drives us to innovate in the world of tabletop game play. We look forward to sharing that passion with you through our games.
